

The Benefits of a Corporate Trustee

In light of the new Australian Taxation Office (ATO) penalty regime that will apply to Self Managed Superannuation Funds (SMSF) Optima Partners highly recommend assessing a move from individual trustees to a corporate (company) trustee.

The new penalty regime has the ability to levy penalties of $10,200 on all trustees, so if a SMSF has four members and the trustees are individual members then the total penalties imposed would be $40,800 as opposed to $10,200 where the trustee is a company.

Apart from the changes in the penalty regime there are additional benefits in having a company act as trustee. In a document published this year, ASIC provided five reasons why a corporate SMSF trustee is better than individual trustees.

There is limited liability for directors. Individual trustees can be personally liable for decisions they have taken or in relation to action taken in relation to a fund asset.

- Administration efficiencies for changes in members. This principally relates to having to alter the names of individual trustees on every fund asset when there is any change in the members of a SMSF. With a corporate trustee there is no change to asset ownership, just a change in the directors of the company.
- Simpler trustee succession; that is, a corporate trustee will continue in the event of a member's death and there is no uncertainty or doubt in dealing with fund assets.
- Access to limited recourse borrowing arrangements because lenders often insist an SMSF has a corporate trustee.

Starting from $1,500 + GST which includes the cost to purchase the company, legal fees to amend the trust deed and Optima Partners fee to instruct lawyers, update ATO registers, and co-ordinate execution of the documents.

Ongoing annual fees for having a company act as trustee including the annual ASIC Fee will be $286 including GST.

New SMSF Penalty Regime

New Penalty Regime for SMSFs from 1 July 2013

A new Penalty Regime for SMSFs will apply for contraventions that occur on or after 1 July 2013.

Currently, up to 30 June 2013, the Commissioner has the following options when dealing with a SMSF non-compliance issue:

- Making an SMSF non-complying for taxation purposes;
- Applying to a court for civil penalties to be imposed. A person may also face criminal penalties for more serious breaches of the law;
- Accepting an enforceable undertaking in relation to a contravention; and disqualifying a trustee of an SMSF.

These new measures will provide the ATO, as the Regulator of SMSFs, with greater flexibility when dealing with a fund's non-compliance with the law, including:

- Rectification and education directions for contraventions of the Super Law;
- An administrative penalty regime for SMSF trustees for certain contraventions of the SIS Act.
